Volunteering

2018 – current

Christmas Wish - The Heart Project

I have been volunteering with The Heart Project in Brisbane since 2018, each year I collaborated with a compassionate team of photographers to capture heartfelt moments for terminally ill children, aiming to bring them a sense of Christmas cheer. Additionally, I joined forces with a group of skilled Photoshop editors who worked tirelessly to transform these photos into magical experiences for children worldwide. It was an honor to be a part of this project, spreading joy and creating cherished memories for these brave children during the holiday season.
